OFFICERS OF M. W. A. CAMP ARE INSTALLED

Officers of Memphremagog Camp No. 16234, Modern Woodmen of America, were installed Thursday evening of last week in M. W. A. hall in the I. O. O. F. block by State Deputy, George F. Baldwin, of Concord, N. H., assisted by District Deputy Alvin Woodard of West Charleston. Four applications for membership were received and the prospects seem very bright for the new lodge. The officers elected and installed were: Consul, N. W. Peters; Past Consul, H. E. Somers, M. D.; Advisor, H. J. Griggs; Banker, George B. Brown; Clerk, Wm. J. Maguire; Escort, E. W. Davis; Watchman, F. A. Linquist; Sentry, B. H. Woodard; Physician, H. E. Somers, M. D. The next meeting will be held on Nov. 20th, when it is expected sufficient applications will be received for a "Baldwin" to be held on Dec. 18th, when State Deputy Baldwin will again be present. This will be an important meeting as Newport Camp 11272, which was instituted 18 years ago, will consolidate with the new lodge on Dec. 1st and have a get-together and the new and old members become acquainted.

Past Consul W. R. Magoon of Newport Camp wished the new lodge and its officers success.

GROUT APPOINTED RECRUITING OFFICER

A. H. Grout has received appointment as recruiting officer for the drive to obtain recruits for the Newport National Guard company. Already a good number have given their names to assist in completing this company in time so that Newport can see the erecting of the new $40,000 armory building on the city lot the coming season. It is necessary that the company be recruited to 100 strong before January 1st, to make certain the erection of the splendid and much-needed building.

Young men, come forward! Hospital Fund Drive Left to Bishop. A meeting of the hospital association was held in the Goodrich library Tuesday evening to consider plans for the organized drive for funds. It was decided at the meeting to leave the entire matter to Alfred Bishop, who has been appointed solicitor for the association.

"The Rose Girl" Great Success.

"The Rose Girl," the home-talent musical comedy, which was presented in Lane's opera house Thursday evening, under the auspices of the Ladies' Social Union of the First Congregational church, was greeted with the usual good house that patronizes home-talent plays. "The Rose Girl" was produced under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Philbrook, who staged "The Runaways," in our city two seasons ago, and have been in our town on other occasions directing other home-talent plays, all of which have been well received and pronounced a great success. "The Rose Girl" musical comedy had a real plot that was sustained throughout the two acts and three scenes of the play.

Bud West (Walter Cleveland), head waiter at the famous Red Cafe, was very marked in his attentions to the breezy cashier, Madeline Travels (Helen Savage), who, however, had ambitions to be a real live musical comedy star. The eternal triangle was completed by Jacqueline Brenner (Lottie Welcome). "Jac" secretly fond of Bud, considered herself unworthy to be his wife because of her lowly station. Matters assumed a very different aspect with the arrival on the scene of Baron Von Spreckles (O. S. Searies), a Swiss nobleman, eccentric of speech and garb, who informed her of a rich legacy, consisting of valuable railroad stocks and bonds, awaiting her in Switzerland.

Bud West, too timid to unburden himself to Madeline, informed the baron of his plight, and was advised to write her a letter, her answer to be indicated by a rose left on her desk.

Act two was the scene of a New Year's celebration, the occasion being further enlivened by Bud's recent acquisition of a half interest in the restaurant. Entered upon the scene was "Chuck" McGee (Earle Davis), a plumber with social aspirations; P. J. Barnes (Benjamin Borella), a capitalist, who planned to turn the cafe into an office building; his wife (Marion Newland), a glib society leader; and Walter Barnes (Oscar Proulx), appeared as a profligate son of the old man. Madeline, an established footlight favorite, arrived with her chorus girl friends. The tragedy of Bud West was then witnessed. The dress-suited plumber scandalized the assemblage by too frequent libations at the punch bowl; Madeline snubs Bud openly in favor of Walter Barnes; and the last straw is added when a busy process server (Rudolph Bigelow), serves a writ of foreclosure of a mortgage held on the restaurant, leaving Bud hopelessly ruined.

The usual happy ending was soon achieved, however, by Jac's sale of her inherited railroad stock to Mr. Barnes and her purchase of the cafe, and the turning over to Bud of the establishment and all its fixtures, including herself, for his very own.

The seventeen musical numbers, all attractively costumed, added greatly to the development of the story.

Walter C. Cleveland and Mrs. Welcome sang "Hand in Hand," with a dainty parol dance.

Lizzie, a sporting domestic, played by Christine Blanchard, an eccentric comedy character, brought gales of laughter with her song and dance.

Oscar Proulx sang, "The Sun Shines Brighter," with a bevy of pretty girls.

Proulx and Helen Savage neatly did the song and dance, "I'd Like to Furnish a Flat for You."

Marion Newland showed a voice of rare sweetness and power in her two high-class songs entitled "Love's Wonderland" and "Garden of My Dreams."

One of the applause hits of the evening, Henry Smith's solo, "I'm Going to Quit."

The opening of Act II disclosed a pretentious interpretive dance called, "The Dance of Rose," by Mrs. Louis Philbrook, Ella Ramsdell, Florence Taylor, Ruby Calkins and Doris Blanchard.

McCauley's orchestra of seven pieces rendered splendid music through the entire performance which helped to make the entertainment the great success that it was in every way.

DON'T DISREGARD A COLD
The influenza and pneumonia that swept the country a year ago were preceded by an epidemic of colds. Foley's Honey and Tar will check a cold if taken in time, and will also stop a cough of long standing. It promptly gives relief, soothes and heals. Mrs. Geneva Robinson, 88 N. Swan St., Albany, N. Y., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar is the best cough medicine I ever used. Two bottles broke a most stubborn lingering cough." It loosens phlegm and mucus, clears air passages, eases hoarseness, stops tickling throat. Sold Everywhere.

COVENTRY

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Elliott have gone to West Burke.

Mrs. Carroll Wilder, who is in the hospital in Orleans, is in a critical condition.

Miss Marion Chaffee of Derby Center spent the week-end with her friend, Marion Cleveland.

Ralph Prescott and Miss Laura Prescott of Lyndon Center were week-end guests at J. P. Wheelock's.

Walter Cleveland is visiting relatives in Enosburg Falls and will go from there to visit relatives in Burlington.

Wm. Brooks, whose illness has been mentioned from time to time, died Monday. Further particulars next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Frasier and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Brooks of Orleans are in town, called here by the serious illness and death of Wm. Brooks.

Mr. and Mrs. Louie Lee and Mrs. J. Carbee went to Orleans Sunday to see Mrs. Wilder, who is in the hospital.

Mrs. Emily Allen of Newport, who has been here helping care for her sister, Mrs. A. J. Hancock, has returned home.

Several from here attended the musical comedy in Newport Thursday evening and report a good time, good music and all the parts well taken.

The Christmas club met Thursday with Mrs. Edith Batchelder. The ladies all did justice to the excellent boiled dinner prepared by the hostess.

Hon. Josiah Grout has presented the R. E. Wright library with a book Memoir of Gen. Wm. Wallace Grout and Autobiography of Josiah Grout, for which we wish to extend thanks.

Rodney Fairbrother has bought a farm in Barton. They have a large circle of friends here who are sorry to have them leave town. Mrs. Fairbrother has always been one of our most willing workers in church work and an active member of the Mission Circle. The best wishes of their many friends go with them to their new home.

CHURCH NOTES

Work is finished on the church vestry. A great improvement has been made and the expenses, $150, are paid, so there is no debt.

The rally day exercises were fine with an attendance of 96 in the Sunday school. Following is the program: Prayer, Rev. C. E. Southard; rallying song, choir; rally day welcome, Alton Noyes; welcome, Ruth Knox; rally day girls' exercise, four girls; "Why We Rally," Legacy brothers; Beginners' rally song; "I'll Try" exercise by four small girls; "Working Together," Vera Vinton; "Jesus Bids Us Shine," song by the primary class; rally day exercise, six small boys; recitation, Arthur Bean; "The Ready's" exercise, two boys and two girls; remarks, Mr. Southard; closing song, choir; benediction. The committee in charge were Rev. C. E. Southard, Mrs. Gertrude Ware, Miss Hazel Shompany. The children did credit to their teachers.

The Prudential committee of the church will hold a meeting Thursday evening after prayer meeting. Plan to be there.

A CHEERFUL RECOMMENDATION
"They should be in every traveling man's grip," writes Geo. Jenner, apt Labor St., San Antonio, Tex., of Foley's Cathartic Tablets. "They are the best laxative I have taken and I cheerfully recommend them to anyone suffering with constipation or biliousness. They thoroughly cleanse the bowels, sweeten the stomach and benefit the liver. They correct indigestion, bad breath, bloating, gas, coated tongue and other results of sluggish bowels. No griping; no nausea—Sold everywhere."
